

Handwritten text and a stamp on the right side of the drawing. The text is in a cursive or semi-cursive script, likely a language from the Balkans or Eastern Europe. The stamp is rectangular and contains some illegible text and a circular emblem. The text appears to be a title or a description of the drawing, followed by a date and possibly a signature or name.